

WORLD ENERGY CONSERVATION DAY

The world Energy Conservation Day is observed around the world on 14 December every year. The objective to celebrate the World Energy Conservation Day is to drive mass awareness about the importance of conservation of energy and wise use of sources of energy. On this day, our school Bal Bharati Public School, Jharli organized various activities for spreading awareness amongst the students. Students were told that the motives for conserving energy are to save on utility bills and protect the environment. There are many ways to save energy like use smart power strips, purchase energy efficient appliance and wise use of vehicles and electrical appliances. Students of classes PP-1 to X participated vigorously in Poster Making and Collage Making activities and also sent their entries in virtual form for competitions.
